Executives of all levels must be responsible for and consider it a priority to ensure that their subordinates truly learn, understand, and comply with this Corporate Governance Policy and Code of Business Conduct.

The Company does not support any conduct that is against the laws and ethical principles. Should a director, executive, and employees act against the set ethical principles, he/she will receive strict disciplinary punishment. If the misconduct is believed to be an act committed in violation of law and order, rules, and regulations mandated by the government, the Company will forward the case to concerned government authority for further proceeding.

The Board of Directors has made it an obligation to review the “Corporate Governance Policy and Code of Business Conduct” on a yearly basis.

5. Disciplines and Disciplinary Actions

The Board of Directors considers Code of Business Conduct a management discipline with which all directors, executives, and employees are required to strictly comply. Violation or non-compliance is considered breaches of discipline according to the regulations related to personnel administration.

Every director, executive, and employees has a duty to comply with, and encourage others to comply with work ethics and Code of Business Conduct. The following acts are considered unethical:

1. Noncompliance with Code of Business Conduct
2. Instigating, encouraging, and endorsing others to act against Code of Business Conduct
3. Neglecting an act of violation, and ignoring noncompliance with Code of Business Conduct when aware
4. Not cooperating or hindering the investigation/interrogation of facts
5. Retaliation against the reporter who reports in good faith

Disciplinary Actions

Any unfair act against a plaintiff as recorded in the unethical report Disciplinary Actions

1. Mild Violation Executive and employee will receive a written warning, indicating nature of the transgression, and information on the ground of violation. He/she will be given an opportunity to rebuke the allegation. If no resolution can be sought, the issue will be brought to the disciplinary committee, appointed by Chairman of the Board of Directors. Decision of the disciplinary committee will deem final. Repeat of violation or failure to rectify the first act of violation based on the written warning will result in strict disciplinary punishment which may include dismissal with no compensation for termination.
2. Serious violation, which include the following acts: giving and receiving bribes, frauds, disclosure of the Company's confidential information or intellectual properties to third party, any conduct that defames the Company's prestige, and failure to disclose information or important documents to the superiors, may result in immediate dismissal with no compensation for termination without a written warning.
3. Policies and guidelines on anti-corruption are parts of the work disciplines of directors, executives, and employees. Negligence, and ignorance to comply with the Company's policies and guidelines is considered breaches of discipline. Punishment will be in accordance with the Company's rules. However, if the act is also against the law, the Company will consider to proceed in accordance with related laws.
